To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing in recommendation of the Last Chance Animal Rescue organization. I have been working these fine folks for over a year now and can not express in words how incredibly impressed I am with the work that they do!

In the time in which I have been working with them, Last Chance has come into the shelters in North and South Carolina and made huge improvements not just in rescuing and "pulling" animals from these shelters, but in truly changing the culture in these shelters and educating the folks in the area.

I work with many rescue organizations and I see all manner of organization or disorganization. Last Chance is incredibly well organized, they have a very clear mission, and they accomplish it on a daily basis with a clarity and dedication that few can exhibit. The way they manage their resources and the incredible work that they do should be held up as an example for others!

It gives me great pleasure to work with this organization and I strongly encourage you to support the wonderful work that they do!

Sincerely yours,
